Gulfview patrons protest HNC principal home project

By JUNE M. HEYDT
Amid picketers from Gulfview Elementary School and protests from Terrell Randolph, Hancock County School District Superintendent, a bid of $139,920 from J. and S. Builders of Pocomoke was accepted Monday by the Hancock County School Board.
The bid is for rebuilding the North Central High School principal's home. Also included in the bid are estimates for adding a fireplace with a heating device in the amount of $1,488.
The board agreed to decide in 30 days whether or not to accept the two house contract additions.
Only one other bid was opened—from Southern Builders of Pass Christian for $49,241.
The house to be rebuilt has four bedrooms, two baths and a dining room, living room and family room.
The house was destroyed by fire on Jan. 4, 1983.
"The cause was faulty wiring leading to a clothes dryer in the house," Ed Filoux of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigation Division, said Wednesday.
The school board received an insurance reimbursement for the house for $48,650 and authorized reconstruction of the residence.
Randolph has said the monies could be utilized in any way the members of the board feel will benefit the school district.
A school district parent at the meeting asked the board, "Why can't the principal pay his own way like the rest of us do," and added, "What gives him the right to get his living free at the taxpayers expense?"
The policy for paying utility bills, telephone bills and housing for school principals was established several years ago when housing was scarce.
The offer of housing is used by the school district as an incentive to get a principal to relocate to this area.

Many parents and school patrons attending feel that this policy is outdated and should be changed.
"I'm not sure about the policy of paying for housing, phone bills and utilities; school patrons and parents along with several school children picketed the school board meeting with signs such as, 'We need classrooms not houses' and 'I don't want to go to school in a trailer.'"
Board Member Johnny Banks was the only board member voted against accepting the bid for rebuilding the house.
Randolph objected saying, "There are greater priorities in the school system than the building of a house. There are already facilities on the campus at North Central High, one is a house and the other a trailer which provide enough security for the campus."
"This money should be taken and parlayed into $75,000 or $80,000 which in turn could be used for financing the new kindergartens which will open in about two years," Randolph said.
Randolph added, "I spoke to Donald Hillman, principal of North Central High, and he indicated he was going to build his own house. He is definitely not pushing the board to rebuild the house that was destroyed."
A parent at the meeting who would not reveal her identity said, "There is some reason why the board wants to rebuild that house, but nobody knows why. I think there is something fishy about the whole thing."
In other business, the board approved a salary supplement of $500 monthly for bookkeeper Lol Carver retroactive to April 1.
The board also approved a proposal from the bookkeeper that a policy be issued stating the $12.50 applied to, teacher insurance only be applicable to life, accident, and hospitalization insurance and not for disability insurance.

Carver stated, "If we pay disability, then we have to pay the social security taxes on any benefits collected from disability. It could cost the school district a great deal of money."
James A. Head Jr. of Gulf Regional Planning Commission in Gulfport presented a proposal for developing a management plan for 16th Section lands in Hancock County.
The plan consists of conducting extensive research and studying the land to determine the existing status of the property—its current use and present lease agreements.
The proposal includes the developing a management plan for current and future use.
A report on all 16th Section land will include, research of laws regarding land management, current aerial photography, planimetric, ownership, soil, existing land use and zoning maps; current oil lease and appraisal reports; a timber inventory; suggested land.

Suberville and Paul Holmes, held the signs they carried during their walking. The picketers were protesting the rebuilding of the principal's house from North Central high school. The plan is to use the money should be used for higher priorities such as getting students out of trailers and into classrooms.

Special meeting set tonight in Idlewood zoning dispute

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Waveland Board of Aldermen will meet in a special session at 7:30 p.m. tonight to further consider a developer's request to rezone undeveloped portions of the Idlewood Subdivision in that city.
Some 25 residents attended a Tuesday night aldermen meeting at City Hall where many of them expressed opposition to efforts by Delmar Wilcox of Waveland to rezone the area for a townhouse development.
Mayor John Longo recommended the special meeting after Wilcox reported prospective but unnamed financial backers in Denver, Colo.—who he said possess $52 million to invest in such developments—were interested in the vacant Idlewood property now owned by George Simon of Ocean Springs.
Wilcox urged the aldermen to reconsider an earlier decision to table the matter because his investors would back out if no zoning change was approved immediately.
But Longo said if the board reversed itself the action would be illegal and he wanted to meet again with the opposing residents.
Wilcox is seeking a zone change to an R-3 (multi-family dwellings) classification.
Barbara Rappold, city clerk, zoning official and an alderman, reported she is not yet sure if the area is presently zoned R-1 (for single-family homes) or R-2 (for duplex dwellings).
She noted the city is updating its zoning map which was recently discovered to be inaccurate during another zoning controversy regarding beachfront property.

Wilcox was also seeking a zoning change from residential to C-3 (highway commercial) for a 50-foot strip of property adjacent to the extensively developed Century Park Subdivision on Waveland Avenue.
The strip extends from the avenue to the Idlewood property.
But Wilcox, after the Idlewood residents left the meeting, met with the aldermen to discuss possible compromises in an attempt to appease the residents and aldermen.
He pledged to drop efforts to rezone the strip and a five-acre area along the southern border of the developed portion of Idlewood to act as a buffer.

The Waveland businessman said the undeveloped area of Idlewood consists of 33 acres with 61 lots.
The buffer area would eliminate 11 of those lots for townhouse development, he reported.
In addition, Wilcox said he would not pursue plans to build a golf course in a swamp area in Idlewood, which several of the residents had opposed earlier at the meeting.
Earlier in the meeting, many of the residents complained a townhouse development would bring increased

DISPUTE—Page 6A

Police issuing citations on delinquent fines

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Bay St. Louis Police Department is issuing capias pro finem warrants for persons owing fines in Municipal Court, according to Police Chief Douglas Williams.
Williams said, "There are many persons with delinquent fines which should have been paid. These fines stem from the Bay City Court, and sufficient time has been given the subjects."
"These fines have to be collected, and city patrolmen have begun to serve the capias pro finem, which calls for the arrest of the defendants," Williams added.

The warrants state, "...You are therefore, commanded forthwith to take the body of said (name of person to be served) and keep safely in jail of Hancock County until said fine shall be paid in full, unless said defendant be otherwise discharged by the course of law..."
Williams continued, "We hope to have all these fines up-to-date in the near future, as persons with outstanding fines from the Bay Municipal Court will be arrested according to law."

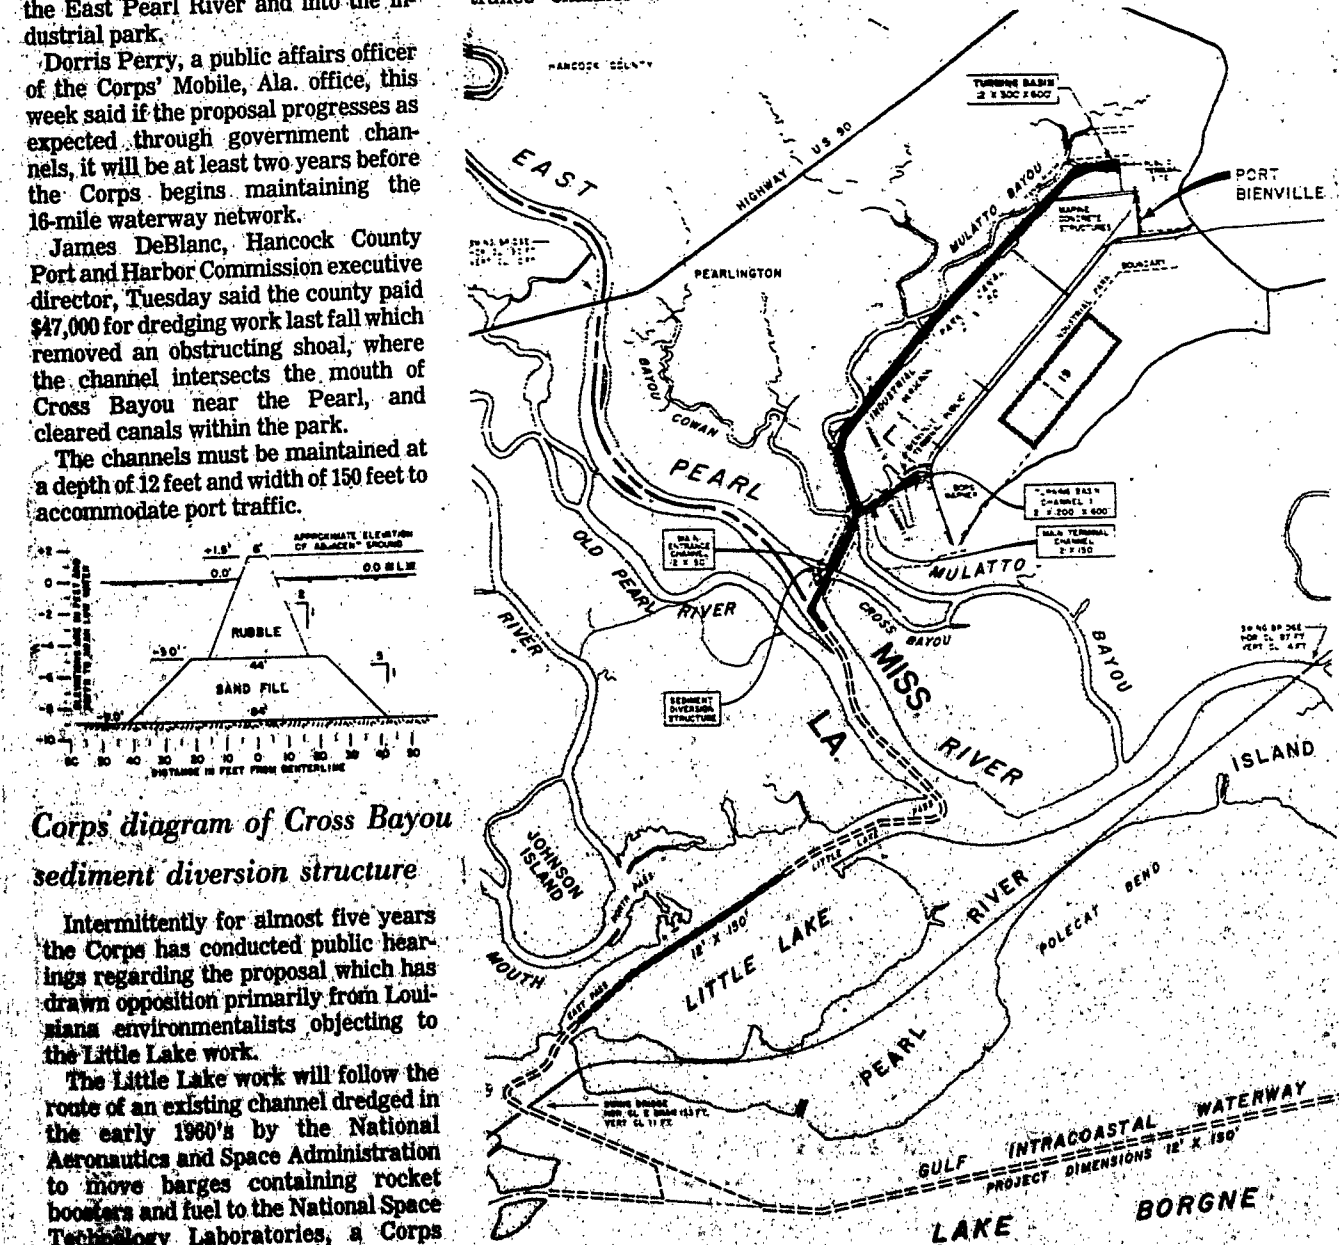

Corps proposing sediment diversion at Cross Bayou

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is proposing construction of a 'sediment diversion structure' at the mouth of Cross Bayou to reduce shoaling in the Port Bienville Main Entrance Channel.
The structure is included in a Corps proposal to assume maintenance dredging responsibility for navigation channels serving the port which extend from the Rigolets through Little Lake to the East Pearl River and into the industrial park.
Doris Perry, a public affairs officer of the Corps' Mobile, Ala. office, this week said if the proposal progresses as expected, through government channels, it will be at least two years before the Corps begins maintaining the 16-mile waterway network.
James DeBlanc, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission executive director, Tuesday said the county paid $47,000 for dredging work last fall which removed an obstructing shoal, where the channel intersects the mouth of Cross Bayou near the Pearl, and cleared canals within the park.
The channels must be maintained at a depth of 12 feet and width of 150 feet to accommodate port traffic.

A Corps diagram and accompanying description indicate the structure will be built across the bayou mouth with a 'barge-mounted clamshell' which will place 1,400-cubic-yards of sand to form a five-foot-high base and 804 tons of rip-rap piled about nine-feet high to be even with the surrounding shoreline (about six feet above the mean low water mark).
Maintenance dredging of the port entrance channel would be necessary every six years, the notice lists.

Perry said the estimated initial cost of re-dredging the channels is $3,791,000.
The estimated annual cost of the subsequent maintenance work is $638,000 with $213,000 of that amount strictly for dredging and the remainder for bulkheads and other channel-related projects, Perry said.

CORPS—Page 6A

Corps diagram of Cross Bayou sediment diversion structure
Intermittently for almost five years the Corps has conducted public hearings regarding the proposal which has drawn opposition primarily from Louisiana environmentalists objecting to the Little Lake work.
The Little Lake work will follow the route of an existing channel dredged in the early 1980's by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to move barges containing rocket boosters and fuel to the National Space Technology Laboratories, a Corps notice states.
"The proposed trapezoidal diversion structure tapers from a maximum 84-foot bottom width to a minimum six-foot top width..." the notice states.

MP&L files suit against United

United Energy Resources, Inc. reported that Mississippi Power & Light Company (MP&L) has instituted a lawsuit in Federal district court in Mississippi against United Energy's interstate natural gas transmission subsidiary, United Gas Pipe Line Company, over the methodology used by United Gas to compute the rate charged the plaintiff for gas sales.

In the suit, which was previously reported as being threatened, the plaintiff has asserted, among other things, that United Gas has been improperly using certain volumes and costs in computing the rate charged MP&L. The plaintiff claims damages, including interest, of $31 million and is also seeking the exclusion of such volumes and costs in future charges.

United Gas disputes the plaintiff's interpretation of the contract.

Quotables by CUEVAS

We would like to remind everyone about the big World Day of Prayer celebration planned for 4 p.m. this afternoon at the Hancock County Courthouse.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and the Ministerial Alliance are co-sponsoring this special event.

We hope to see you the World Day of Prayer Service this afternoon!

On Saturday of this week, the Hancock Women's Club will be sponsoring a Yard Sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at 430 Main St., Bay St. Louis.

The club is sponsoring the Yard Sale for benefit of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society.

As you know, the Humane Society does such an outstanding job in our communities, especially with their spay-neuter program.

This helps very much, because it controls the population of dogs and cats.

We are hoping many folks will stop by and either make a purchase, or give some items to be sold at the Yard Sale.

We hope the Women's group are successful with the sale.

One of the civic groups who seem to be picking up with activities in Hancock County is Lions Club.

The group has provided transportation for two local band members to attend the Lions Club State Band, and also has been providing glasses for needy children.

Anyone interested in the Lions Club can contact Jack Baumgartner, president; or Wallace Bradley, secretary-treasurer.

We understand the local club would like to increase its membership in order to provide more services to our communities.

We have noted quite a bit of work which has been done in recent weeks at the Hancock County Fairgrounds by a few members of the Fair and Livestock Association.

New roping pens have been constructed out of drilling well casings and bleachers have had boards replaced.

Like any other organization, there are only a few hard workers in the Hancock County Fair and Livestock Association, and we commend each of them.

One of the reasons four members of the association were real busy this week was for the upcoming rodeo this Friday and Saturday.

There will be regular rodeo events plus Junior bull riding, barrel racing, and break-away roping.

The events begin at 8 p.m. each night and we hope many folks will try and attend the rodeo.

PREPARING MISSISSIPPI'S NEW LEADERS

Developing Mississippi's future leaders is an important task that must be taken seriously. For it is only through the state's emerging leadership that Mississippi will attain the quality of life envisioned by all its citizens.

Recently, 29 delegates to the Mississippi Economic Council's 1982-83 Leadership Mississippi Program completed their course work and were issued certificates of graduation. These young men and women, who were drawn from all parts of Mississippi and from varying backgrounds, began projects last fall that required careful planning and implementation of team objectives.

Following months of research and development of team presentations, delegates from the five districts gathered in Jackson recently to make presentations before a panel of judges. After the projects were evaluated, graduation certificates were presented to each of this year's 29 delegates.

Many graduates of past Leadership Mississippi Programs have taken the skills developed in this program to assume roles of leadership in their communities and at the state level. And the graduates of 1983 will also take their places of leadership.

The Mississippi Economic Council is pleased to help prepare these exceptional men and women for their future roles of leadership.

League head urges residents to express opposition to nuclear dump at hearing

The Sea Coast Echo
P. O. Box 230
Bay St. Louis

Dear Mr. Cuevas,

This letter is a plea to put a major effort into covering the hearings now being conducted in the state regarding nuclear waste in Mississippi.

We have as citizens one more shot at letting Washington know that we do not intend to be made the scapegoat of the nation's nuclear power plants.

Please encourage citizens to storm the auditorium at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College - Jefferson Davis campus in Gulfport on May 12.

Be there before 2 p.m., when the hearing is scheduled to start and stay until the end at 9 p.m.

Washington only recognizes numbers of people, seen to them as votes. Only through the help of the media can this message reach the public.

Thank you on behalf of present and future readers of The Sea Coast Echo.

Pearlington group seeking improvement of public services

April 29, 1983

The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

On April 22 a meeting of very concerned citizens was held at the volunteer fire department in Pearlinton.

In spite of the terrible weather and flooding conditions, some 40 people came out to air their concerns and fears regarding the services, or rather the lack of services, the Pearlinton residents received during the April flooding due to the weather.

Spending time late into the evening, the subject was thoroughly discussed and in a genuine democratic manner, a committee of five residents was elected to take our fears, concerns and worries to the various authorities to ask for help.

This meeting was publicized in your newspaper in a five-line item that probably helped to bring the people out to this meeting. However, I cannot help but wonder how many more people a 10 or 20 line article might have brought.

I would like to take this avenue to express my admiration and gratitude to the five people who have undertaken the grave responsibility to spend uncounted time to help us to get our local authorities acknowledge the existence of the Pearlinton community and to direct their attention to the needs of this community.

In any manner that your respected publication could be of help to this committee to accomplish their job, would surely be greatly appreciated by the Pearlinton area residents.

Thank you for your kind consideration and cooperation.

Very truly yours,
Leslie Seidman
Pearlington

Residents in the Tupelo area are better off economically when compared to residents of other Mississippi counties, according to a new study by the Mississippi Economic Council.

Hancock County ranked 27th among the state's 82 counties.

The study, entitled "Economic Profiles of Mississippi Counties," ranked the state's 82 counties on the basis of seven categories. According to the report, the county with the highest composite ranking is Lee County.

The counties of Hinds, Adams, Jones, and Warren held rankings two through five respectively.

The study was a project of MEC's Committee on State and Local Government. Morris W. H. Collins Jr., who chairs the John Stennis Institute of Government at Mississippi State University, is chairman. Conducting the study was the Special Committee on County Economic Profile, chaired by Ken Goodwin, formerly with the Mississippi Research and Development Center and now with the Mississippi Department of Economic Development.

"This comparison was developed so that counties could see how they compare to one another in specific areas," said Bob Pittman, MEC president. "From this study the individual counties can see which areas are their strengths and in which areas they need to improve," he said.

The seven categories in which the counties were ranked were population, per capita income, per capita employment, per capita bank deposits, per capita sales, percentage of high school graduates, and per capita general revenues.

Rounding out the state's top 10 counties, according to the study, were Forrest, Lauderdale, Harrison, Jackson, and Lowndes.

Although top-ranked Lee County wasn't ranked first among the 82 counties in any of the seven categories of economic standing, it nonetheless scored high enough in the categories to enable it to have the highest composite score.

Lee County ranked 10th in population, 3rd in per capita income, 8th in per capita employment, 4th in per capita bank deposits, 2nd in per capita sales, 11th in percentage of high school graduates, and 17th in per capita general revenues.

Hinds County was ranked 1st in population, per capita income, per capita bank deposits, and percentage of high school graduates. It ranked 5th in per capita employment, 11th in per capita sales, and 8th in per capita general revenues.

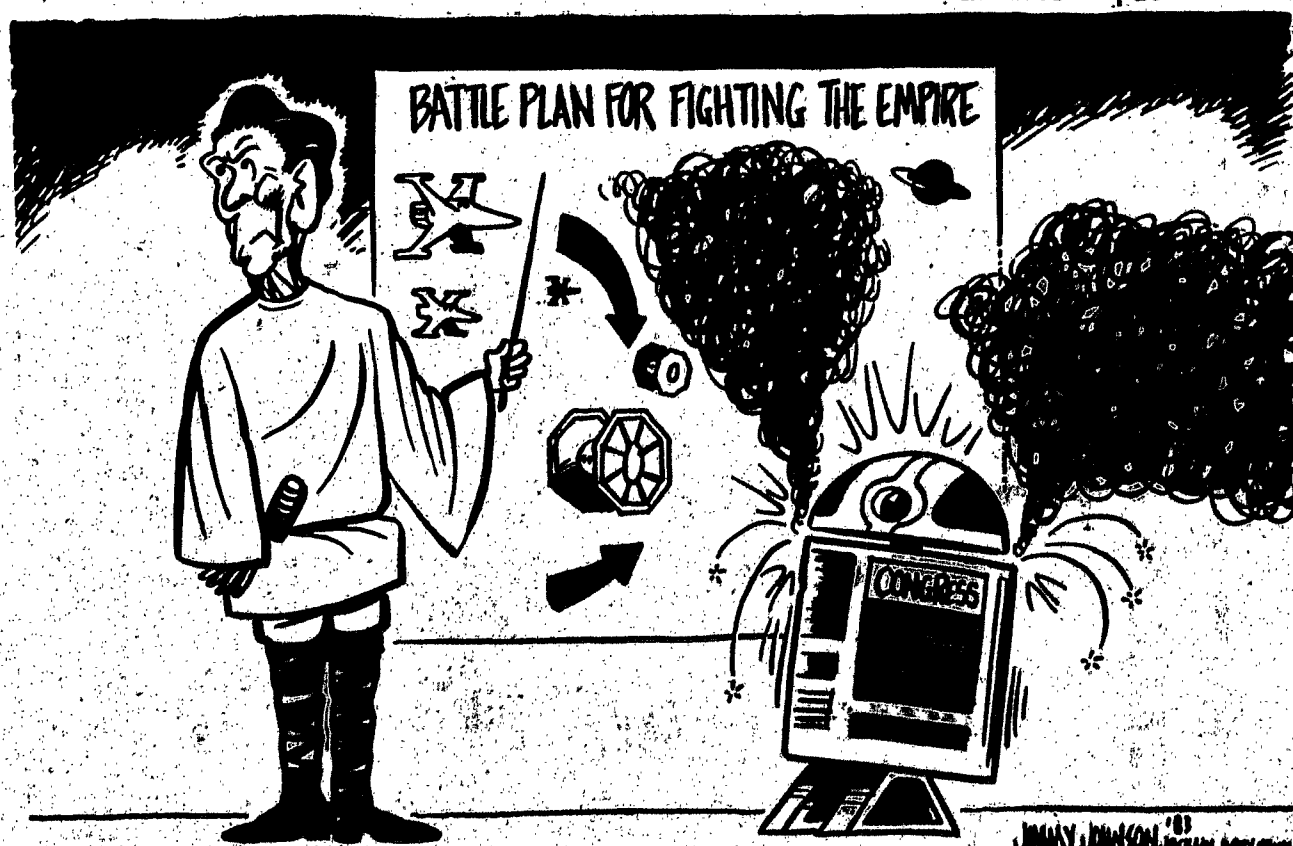

According to the study, Claiborne County ranked 1st in per capita employment and 1st in per capita sales. Clarke County ranked 1st in per capita general revenues.

"Individual citizens, local governments, and other interested groups are encouraged to compare their own counties with neighboring counties and with other counties in the state. Such comparison should help to identify strengths and weaknesses of the counties, thus leading to new commitments to actions necessary for economic progress," the report said.

In releasing the report, the MEC said it was assisted in the project by the Information Services Division of the Mississippi Research and Development Center.

Borg-Warner first quarter sales top $800 million

Borg-Warner Corporation has reported that despite a severe drop in affiliate earnings, the strong performance of the company's operating units pushed first quarter earnings to "a near match" with the record results of the year-ago quarter.

However, earnings per share declined slightly due to an increase in common shares compared with the 1982 quarter.

Borg-Warner chairman James F. Bere told shareholders at the company's 55th annual meeting in Chicago that first quarter earnings were $35.5 million, or 80 cents per share, down slightly from the $36.3 million, or 85 cents per share earned in 1982. Sales were $813 million compared with $737 million in the year earlier quarter.

Bere said all areas of the company's business were profitable, except the air conditioning group, which lost money as a result of intense price pressures and a sharp decline in international business. He cited a particularly strong performance by the chemicals and plastics group. "We expect continued earnings improvement, especially in our manufacturing areas, as the economic recovery takes hold," he said.

The company's financial and protective services operations continued to do well, he said, and together accounted for about half of Borg-Warner's first quarter earnings.

Bere also said "integration of the Burns operation is proceeding faster and smoother than anticipated" and noted that the acquisition is adding to earnings of the protective services group.

Earnings from affiliates added only $3.3 million, or 7 cents per share, to Borg-Warner's first quarter earnings compared with $15 million, or 36 cents per share, in the same period a year ago.

"This drop is largely due to a severe slump in Hughes Tool earnings, which continue to suffer from depressed oil well drilling activity," the executive noted.

"I'm encouraged by our relatively strong first quarter results. And even though some economic uncertainties remain, I remain confident that 1983 should be a record year for Borg-Warner," Bere said.

Other annual meeting business included the election of three new directors.

They are: John E. Corbally, president and director of the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation; Paul R. Judy, corporate director and advisor; and James R. Lesch, chairman and chief executive of Hughes Tool Company. Re-elected were Joan D. Manley, group vice president, Time Inc.; and Hans L. Merkle, chairman of the board of management, Robert Bosch GmbH.

A Corps study indicates the maintenance project is economically feasible because each $1 invested will generate $1.2 overall, she reported.

Spoils from the dredging work will be placed on industrial park property northeast of Borg-Warner Chemicals Baymar plant area, the Corps diagram indicates.

Comments and questions regarding the project should be directed to Commander, U.S. Army Engineer District, Mobile, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, Ala. 36628, Attention: SAMPD-EC.

Requests for a public hearing regarding the project must be requested by mail from the same address before Thursday, May 12.

Telephone inquiries should be directed to Curtis M. Flakes at 205-694-4108.

vehicle traffic and ruin their quite neighborhood.

But Wilcox argued the townhouses, two per lot, would produce less traffic than an R-1 zoned area.

Several times during the meeting, Longo, who dubbed the gathering at the outset as "an old fashion town meeting," quieted Wilcox's heated arguments with Rappold and the Idlewood residents.

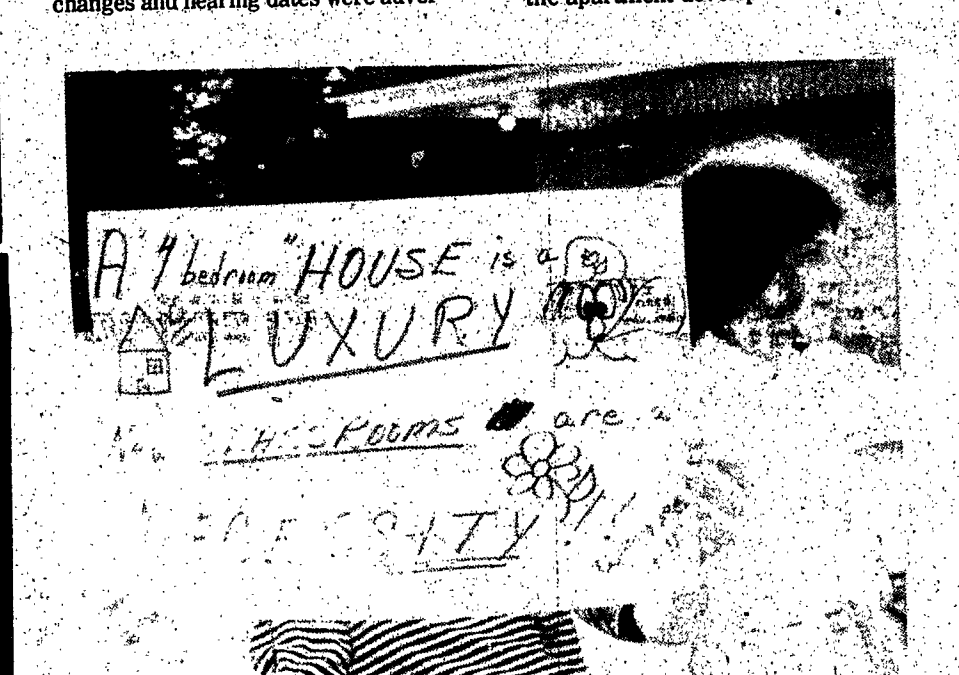

During the meeting Wilcox questioned the residents, asking how they found out about the zoning change and accused "people in city hall" of stirring up opposition to his plans.

Rappold noted the proposed zoning changes and hearing dates were advertised in The Sea Coast Echo.

At an April 29 hearing the City Planning and Zoning Commission recommended the aldermen deny both zoning change requests, meeting minutes indicate.

In addition, the commissioners voted to deny a request by Maxwell Pace of Hobbitt Hill Limited of Gulfport (the Century developers) to rezone property on Waveland Avenue adjacent to the company's development from R-3 to C-3.

But the aldermen Tuesday rejected the commission's recommendation and allowed construction of mini-warehouses and a parking area to serve the apartment development.

use; and zoning, development and lease plans.

The proposal also includes developing a maintenance and update system of the management plan which will be developed with computer stored data.

GRPC's fee for performing the services is $14,000. Upon completion it is proposed that GRPC work annually to update and continue to develop land use, and computer soft-ware, as well as marketing 16th Section and lieuland for a fee of $10,000.

The board members agreed to act on this proposal at their next meeting.

Randolph said, "This will be the first step in straightening out the 16th Section land. I think it will save the board a considerable amount of money."

The board also approved to pay Fred Wagner, architect, $123 for professional services rendered concerning Hancock North Central sewerage repairs.

In addition, the board approved the resignation of Raymond Roberts as temporary maintenance man at Gulfview effective April 28.

Chest pains can be early warning of heart disorder

TREATMENT FOR ANGINA

What is angina and what are the current treatments for this chest pain?

Angina or chest pain is frequent symptom of patients with coronary artery disease.

Angina is your heart's way of telling you that it is getting too little oxygen because of blockage or narrowing of a vessel or vessels leading to it.

Unlike other types of chest pain, angina generally occurs during physical exertion or excitement, when the heart demands more oxygen than usual. It subsides when the exertion and excitement cease.

Angina pain usually is not a pain but a dull discomfort, a feeling of pressure, queezing or burning in the center of the chest behind the chestbone.

Any chest pain, however, should not be self-diagnosed. It could be simple indigestion, or it could indicate a more serious problem with your heart.

There are several kinds of treatment associated with angina or chest pain. Your doctor will suggest the proper one after a thorough examination.

Since obesity, smoking and hypertension are risk factors in developing coronary heart disease, your doctor probably will tell you to lose weight if you are obese, to stop smoking and to engage in a mild form of exercise to relieve stress and condition your cardiovascular system.

The most common prescribed medication for angina is nitroglycerin; it must be dissolved under the tongue and works immediately to dilate the blood vessels around the heart and allow more blood to flow to the heart. In addition, there are a variety of oral or topical forms of nitroglycerin which, while they work more slowly, give longer relief.

Another highly effective medicine for angina pain is Inderal, a drug that slows the heart beat so the heart doesn't require so much blood and oxygen.

A new group of experimental drugs, called calcium blocking agents, have been developed. Used extensively in Europe and recently approved for use in this country, these drugs have the properties similar to both nitroglycerin and Inderal but open the arteries even wider, allowing more blood to pass through.

The most common surgical treatment for patients who suffer severe angina is coronary bypass surgery, in which the blood flow is rerouted around a blocked artery by way of a transplanted section of blood vessel, usually from the patient's leg or thigh.

Beef Month prompts tips from marketing specialist

By ANN O. RUSHING
Extension Marketing Specialist
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

May is Beef Month in Mississippi. Familiarize yourself with a few facts about beef.

The decisions you make at the meat counter are the most important choices you make when you shop for food. Menus usually are planned around meat dishes, balanced diets depend on them, and food budgets often are determined by them.

With so many cuts of beef to choose from, it's understandable why so many consumers are frustrated and confused. Even though no store is ever likely to offer all the cuts at one time, the number offered can still be bewildering.

But it is possible to buy beef with ease and confidence if you understand why one cut is different from another and therefore know what you want, what you are buying, and how to prepare it.

You'll profit from your expanded knowledge of beef by being able to choose cuts you have never used before, perhaps because you were uncertain what they were or how they should be prepared.

When you follow proper cooking methods, there's little need to worry about failure in the kitchen, even when you try a cut of beef for the first time.

Food dollars will stretch further when you can select economical cuts of beef. These are less in demand than the more familiar cuts, but they are equal in appetite appeal and nutritional value.

Successful beef shopping begins at home. Try to plan menus in advance and set out with a general idea of what you want to buy. You can determine how much meat you'll need by figuring the number of people to be served and then estimating how many servings a cut of meat will provide.

Remember, a boneless cut yields more servings per pound than a bone-in or bony cut. Be flexible about menus so you can adjust your meal planning to take advantage of beef sales, or make a substitution if a particular cut of beef is not a good buy.

Once you're at the meat counter, let the label on each package of meat be your shopping guide. It can eliminate guesswork if it tells you the species or kind of meat (beef, pork, lamb, or veal), primal or wholesale cut, and retail cut.

The Uniform Retail Meat Identity Standards program, which was developed by the National Livestock & Meat Board in response to consumer need, is responsible for the methods used to label meat. This system, adopted by a majority of meat retailers across the country, has standardized the names of retail cuts.

When they are used, you need not worry that the same cut of meat will have a variety of different names in different stores or in different parts of the country. Nor will you be puzzled by misleading fanciful names.

Buying beef is an important job. You are likely to face it at least once a week. When you are familiar with beef cuts, know what they look like, where they come from, and how to cook them, you can make expert decisions at the meat counter. You can't afford not to.

If you buy a top grade of beef and cook it properly there is no reason why you will not have a successful meal. But if you plan to serve a pot-roast, for example, it is a foolish extravagance to buy heavily marbled Prime.

The major advantage of Prime is that it can be cooked by dry heat (broiling, pan-broiling, pan-frying, or roasting) and it will be tender. Since slow gentle cooking in liquid tenderizes meat, you can save money by purposely buying a lower grade when you intend to braise or cook in liquid.

In the same way that higher grades of meat cost more than lower grades, certain cuts of meat cost more than other cuts. A beef round eye round roast is delicious roasted. It also can be braised. But it makes much more sense to buy something like a beef chuck shoulder pot-roast to braise because it costs less per pound.

Cuts that can be cooked by dry heat also can be cooked by slow moist heat, but buying them is unnecessarily expensive. The reverse, however, is not true. A less tender cut that should be braised will not be tender, unless it has been pretendered, if it is oven-cooked as a roast.

MARK TWAIN

"Great Performances" presents a month of Mark Twain dramas at 8 p.m., Monday, beginning May 9.

"The Innocents Abroad," a new production, and "Life on the Mississippi," "The Mysterious Stranger" and "The Private History of a Campaign that Failed," all seen previously on ETV, are scheduled.

"The Innocents Abroad," Twain's amusing account of his first trip to Europe with a group of pious pilgrims bound for the Holy Land, can be seen on May 9. Craig Wasson is the young Twain, David Ogden Stiers is the ship's surgeon and Brooke Adams is a vivacious correspondent for her hometown newspaper. The program was filmed in Italy, France, Greece and Egypt.

"Life on the Mississippi" on May 16 is a two-hour film adaptation of Twain's recollection of his experience as an apprentice riverboat pilot and the days of the great Mississippi steamboats. Starring are Robert Lansing and David Kneel.

"The Mysterious Stranger" on May 23 stars Christopher Makepeace, Lance Kerwin and Fred Gwynne. The fantasy, Twain's last novel, focuses on a printer's apprentice from Missouri who daydreams himself into a medieval European castle and meets a mysterious, magical youth who displays fascinating powers. The program was filmed on location in Austria.

"The Private History of a Campaign that Failed" on May 30 dramatizes Twain's story of the Civil War misadventures of a ragtag group of boys who join the Southern cause in a quest for heroism and adventure, only to be shocked into a sudden realization of what war is all about. Pat Hingle stars in the Peabody Award-winning production.

Each program will be rebroadcast at 2 p.m., the following Saturday.

Red Cross extends membership drive

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross has extended its membership drive through the month of May according to Geraldine Lang, membership chairman.

Lang said, "There has been a heavy burden on the Red Cross in recent months because of so many disasters throughout the nation. As you know Hancock County has already had two this year."

Robert Clark, Hancock County disaster services chairman for the Red Cross reports some $25,000 in assistance was given by the local chapter for the January 20, 1983 sudden storm. He also noted the Red Cross had given some $3,000 in various types of assistance in the Pearlington area due to the recent flooding.

In the Pearlington area some 36 families received cleanup kits and several families received other assistance such as food and clothing, Clark reported.

Clark stated, "We are also in need of volunteers as case workers, as in the previous disasters, the Red Cross has had to send persons in from other areas. It would have been much more convenient if we had residents here trained to do such work."

"There are so many jobs available for volunteers with the Red Cross. Some take very little time, and we are hoping interested parties will contact us at our headquarters in the Valena C. Jones Complex, Bay St. Louis," Clark added.

"Memberships start at $1 and up to any amount, the monies are used for routine operation of our local office," Lang allowed.

Local authorities are worried about recent television reports on the National Red Cross being without funds because of so many disasters.

Hancock Countians received some $2.2 million after Hurricane Camille from the American Red Cross.

Persons interested in becoming a member or making a donation, can mail it to Hancock County Red Cross, P.O. Box 149, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520.

Thelma Kergosien, executive director, and Clark may be contacted at 467-4071, or Lang at 467-9586.

Lang reminds residents the memberships and donations are tax deductible.

Bay Council hears drainage complaint

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Bay St. Louis City Council members heard complaints about drainage problems on the Old Spanish Trail property of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Tingstrom at the meeting Tuesday night.

Donna Tingstrom said, "I have called Bill Johnson to come and look at the property and he said, 'I'll be out there tomorrow.' He never bothered to even call to say he wasn't coming."

Tingstrom explained, "The reason for the drainage problem is that the next door neighbor has raised his land changing the direction of the water which now runs through my yard."

James Thrifflay, a councilman, suggested the Tingstroms get in touch with the mayor since he is responsible for the problem and not the council.

In other business, the council accepted bids recommended by Ron Murray Consultants, Inc. for demolition activity in the 1981 Small Cities Program from Butler, Inc. for $575.

The work scope includes structures on Sycamore, Bookter, and Washington Streets.

A bid from Bernond Construction for $250 for work at a house at the corner of Necaise and St. George Streets was also approved.

The board accepted a request by Ron Murray, president of the consulting firm, who asked that A and B Construction Co. of Gulfport be placed on the city's eligible contractors list.

With the city's approval, the contractor will be able to bid on the next phase of the housing rehabilitation project.

Ronald K. Lovejoy of Dickey Co. addressed the board with an invitation for the board to visit the Dickey Plant.

Lovejoy said this would be an opportunity time to visit since the city is planning to build a new sewage system in the near future. Lovejoy represents a firm that makes clay pipes.

10TH SHUTTLE TANK

The latest Space Shuttle external tank to be barged from National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Michoud Assembly Facility will leave New Orleans Saturday on a five-day trip to the Kennedy Space Center in Fla.

Five weeks ahead of NASA's delivery schedule, the tenth external tank is scheduled for a late 1983 flight with the orbiter Challenger.

Martin Marietta builds the external fuel tanks at the Michoud facility under contract to the NASA Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

State plans $4 million World's Fair exhibit

The Mississippi World's Fair Council has received corporate, non-profit status, according to William T. Hackett, executive director of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development and newly elected chairman of the corporation.

The announcement was made at the group's monthly meeting April 20 in Jackson.

Hackett and an executive committee were elected by members of the World's Fair Council, which was created by Gov. William Winter in Dec. 1981, to direct Mississippi's participation in the Louisiana World Exposition in New Orleans, May 12 - November 11, 1984.

The 20-member body now serves as the corporation's board of directors.

Officers include Representative Jim Simpson of Long Beach, vice-chairman; Mayor Tony Byrne of Natchez, secretary; and Mrs. Betty Runyon of Vicksburg, treasurer.

Also on the executive committee are Dick Almsworth, Hattiesburg; Jim Bainbridge, Tupelo; and Malcolm Walls, Greenville.

George Williams, Department of Economic Development Tourism director, was named executive director to the board.

The council's corporate status allows for tax deductible contributions to be made to the council by companies and individuals.

During the meeting, members of the state legislature were lauded for their passage of Senate Bill 2974, an act to make a $4 million appropriation to the Mississippi Board of Economic Development for the purpose of designing, constructing and operating an exhibit on site in New Orleans and to promote the state during the 1984 World's Fair.

Governor Winter signed the bill into law April 4.

A study completed by Gulf South Research Institute indicates that with promotion and an exhibit, the total economic impact of the fair could garner Mississippi $192 to $266 million in new business income, generating $11 to $15 million in new sales tax revenues and 5,000-8,000 new jobs.

In other business, local fair groups were encouraged to plan events for May 12 to mark the 365-day countdown until the opening of the Exposition.

Astronaut cites Michoud employees

Astronaut Charles F. Bolden Jr. visited Martin Marietta's Michoud Division in New Orleans recently to commend employee contributions to the Space Shuttle. Martin Marietta manufactures the Shuttle's giant external tanks.

Bolden presented the NASA astronauts' personal award for professional excellence — the "Silver Snoopy" — to 22 surprised employees.

"This is a great opportunity for me. We rarely get the chance to pat those people on the back who work behind the scenes," Bolden said, adding that "All employees should be bursting with pride about the flight of the first lightweight external tank. It worked perfectly, even after undergoing two extra tankings."

The external tank which flew on the last Shuttle mission weighed 10,000 pounds less than previous tanks. This lightweight tank increased the Shuttle's payload capability by an additional 10,000 pounds. "So for us that's great; we've gone from getting the vehicle off the ground to carrying important experiments into space," Bolden said.

Bolden, a Major in the U.S. Marine Corps, was selected as an astronaut candidate in May 1980, and began training for assignment as a pilot on future Space Shuttle flights. He has logged more than 2,600 hours flying time, and "gets to fly every day" on a flight controls simulator in the Shuttle avionics integration lab.

Bolden presented the following people with the astronauts' award: Bill Bowen, Mabel Wickboldt, Tom Mobley, David Harley, from Slidell; Julian Quigley, Feltus Kennedy, Howard Tomchak, Cheryl Alexander, Jan Garrett, William Olsen, Cynthia Miller, Barbara Robinson, Gerald Wesley, Bethel Pierce, Vince Claham, Jane Ross, from New Orleans; Wayne Day and John Dolese, from Chalmette; Jesse Hardeman and Ralph Tortorich, Metairie; and Leroy Divinity, Marrero.

Martin Marietta builds the external tank for the Space Shuttle system under contract to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Alabama.

The expensive part of health care is hospital costs, and they are rising by leaps and bounds.

They can—with chiropractic health care procedures.

Get the facts. It could be a step toward reducing spiraling inflation in health care.

BEAUTIFICATION OF LIBRARY—The Hancock County Library System will show a row of Indian Hawthorn bushes on the side of their building to screen the air conditioner compressor. "The bushes were donated by the Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis," said Lyn Nybo, memorial gardens chairman for the Bay-Waveland Garden Club. Bill Kimbrell of the Waveland Garden Center planted the bushes. Other recent plantings at the library are Holly which was given as a memorial to Prima Hilliker, a former library trustee, by her daughter Claire Hilliker Belbin. Also on the library grounds is a flowering crab apple tree given as a memorial to Rachael Thomas by her granddaughter, Prima Wusnack, Hancock County Library System director.

ETV Brief

ARTIST'S SUICIDE

"The Rothko Conspiracy," the next drama to be presented on "American Playhouse," recounts the estate battle following the suicide of American artist Mark Rothko.

"The Rothko Conspiracy," a BBC production starring Larry Hodekoff, can be seen at 10 p.m., Friday, May 6, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Less than three months after Rothko's death, the three friends he appointed as executors of his will arranged to sell 100 prime paintings from his estate, at a fraction of their worth, to Frank Lloyd, owner of the Marlborough Gallery. The remainder of the collection they consigned to the Gallery.

Rothko had refused to sell the 796 paintings in his estate, considering them to be his "children."

Locations, dates listed for state's first annual festival of amateur athletics

Mississippi's first annual festival of amateur athletics, the Magnolia State Games, will showcase the state's talent in 22 sports and clinics this summer.

Athletes of all ages will have an opportunity to compete in the sport of their choice during the Magnolia State Games.

The sports included in the first year are archery, big bore rifle, blackpowder pistol and rifle, boxing, cycling, gymnastics, karate, pistol, road racing, rugby, skeet, small bore rifle, swimming, track and field, trap, weightlifting, and the high school All-Star sports of basketball, football, and soccer.

Special clinics on cheerleading and sports medicine will also be offered as official events of the Magnolia State Games.

Mississippi, which will become just the fourth state in the nation to offer statewide games, has drawn the attention of other states considering such events.

"We feel that our program will be unique in its method of funding," said Lee Dukes, director of the Games and executive director of the Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

"Because the State of Mississippi is having severe revenue problems, all of the funding for the Games will come from private sources, such as sponsorships and contributions," Dukes said.

The Games have been endorsed by the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, the Mississippi High School Activities Association, and the Mississippi Association of Coaches.

The first official event of the Games will be the State Singles Trap Championships at the Capitol Gun Club in Jackson on May 28. The event is directed by the Mississippi Amateur Trap Shooting Association.

The Big Bore Rifle Championships will be conducted July 2 at the Magnolia Rifle and Pistol Range near Byram. National Match Course format will be used in this Mississippi Firearms Owners Association (MFOA) directed sport.

Blackpowder pistol and rifle matches will be shot July 9 at the Magnolia Range. These sports are being directed by the Mississippi Muzzleloading Association.

Mississippi's Law Enforcement Training Academy will be the site for the July 10 Pistol Championships, directed by the MFOA. Three pistol 2700-point format will be used.

Skeet shooters will compete in 12 gauge competition on July 10 at the Bob White Gun Club in Aberdeen. This competition will serve as the state championships for the Mississippi State Skeet Shooting Association.

The karate competition, directed by the Mississippi Karate Association, will be conducted July 16 in the Mayo Field House on the campus of Hinds Junior College in Raymond. Sixty-three divisions will be featured.

The Mellow Yellow 5,000 Meter Road Race, an official function of the Games, will begin at 8 a.m. on July 16 at Smith-Wills Stadium in Jackson. The race is being directed by the Mississippi Track Club.

Small bore rifle competition will be conducted July 16-17 at the Magnolia Range by the MFOA. National Rifle Association 3-position and metric prone events will be contested.

The first annual Mississippi Coca-Cola High School All-Star Soccer Game will feature graduating senior soccer players July 23. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Robinson Field on the campus of Mississippi College. An exhibition rugby game will be played during the halftime of that game. Youth soccer players wearing their team jersey will be admitted free.

Archers will test their skills July 24 in the Clarion-Ledger/Jackson Daily News Archery Championships at the Jackson Archery Club. National Field Archery Association rules will apply.

The annual High School All-Star Football Game, directed by the Jackson Touchdown Club, will be played July 29 in Memorial Stadium. Graduating high school students from across the state will be showcased in this prestigious event.

Mississippi's best boxers will compete July 29-30 in matches at Mayo Field House at Hinds Junior College. United States Amateur Boxing Federation age and weight divisions will be utilized.

Finals for the Coca-Cola Track and Field Championships will be run July 30 at Hughes Field in Jackson. Regional events have been set for Pearl, Tupelo, Oxford, and Pascagoula. Additional regional meets are being scheduled.

The Unifirst Cycling Championships will be closed-circuit rides ranging in distances from three to 20 miles. The Metrocenter in Jackson is the site for this July 31 event.

The High School All-Star Cheerleading Clinic will be conducted August 2-6 on the campus of Mississippi College. The three most outstanding squads will be recognized for their accomplishments.

A two-day sports medicine clinic will be offered to coaches and trainers August 4 and 5 at the Holiday Inn Downtown in Jackson. The Mississippi Association of Coaches will direct the clinics.

Protest Park in Columbus will host the State Swimming Association Championships August 4-6. The state's top young swimmers will compete for individual and team honors in this largest annual swimming meet in the state.

Both powerlifters and "Olympic" lifters will compete August 4-6 at the Downtown Jackson YMCA Fitness Center. Special age groups for high school lifters are being offered in the bench press, squat, and dead lift.

The Cadillac Gymnastics Championships will highlight the top 24 finishers for the State Championships at Belhaven College on August 6.

The annual boys' and girls' High School All-Star Basketball Games will tip off August 6 at the Mississippi Coliseum. Squads from the north will face the best from the south in this Mississippi Association of Coaches event.

For more information on any of the events, send the name of that event and a self-addressed stamped envelope to Magnolia State Games, Suite 450, 723 North President, Jackson, Ms 39201.

COMPETING FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP—Hancock North Central Hawk golfers will be shooting for the Class A state championship in Jackson May 11 and 12. The Hawks hope to continue their winning ways in Jackson after taking both the Deep South Conference Tournament at the Seabree Base in Gulfport April 19 and the Class A District VIII title April 26 on their home course at Diamondhead where they squeaked by runnerup East Central with a four-player aggregate of 392 to East Central's 394. "We are going to be strong contenders in Jackson where it probably will take about a 365 to win," said

Hawk Coach Don Hillman. The coach noted his linksmen have fired as low as an aggregate 340 on the Jackson County Country Club Course. "Diamondhead is a tough course and we played last Tuesday in strong winds," he commented on the high scores which won the district title. The Hawk Golf Team includes, standing from left, Hillman, Keen Golden, Mike Stratton, Scott Stiger, Theo Reshew and Assistant Coach Larry Johnson; and kneeling, Jesse Dupre, left, and Doug Smith; (Echo staff photo by Edgar Perez)

Homes of South, Mary Carter Paints, Wildcats head for state playdowns

The Bay Area Soccer Club sends another team to the State Playdowns this coming Saturday and Sunday as Homes of the South reached the finals in the Under 16 District IV Playdowns.

On Saturday in Biloxi Homes of the South opened the day against the Ocean Springs No. 2 team which had beaten them handily just two weeks previously.

Although Ocean Springs scored first, it was a different

Playing an aggressive, controlled game Homes of the South overcame the one goal deficit to tie the game. In its second game of the day Homes played the favored SMSC team and easily swept by it for a 5-1 win to win the round-robin bracket.

In the championship game on Sunday Ocean Springs No. 1 team emerged victorious 2-1 in an even game which could have gone the other way.

In the girls action SportsWorld "Giants" opened their day against Singing River Soccer Club. The Giants came back from 1-0 and 2-1 deficits before they took the lead on Kristy Kidd's goal late in the second half. However, in the waning minutes Singing River pushed in the tying goal which turned out to be the death knell for the Giants' chances to advance. Later that same afternoon a tired Giants' team played Ocean Springs and demonstrated the character of true champions as they played their best game of the year in a losing cause, 5-1, playing even in the second half. Ocean Springs went on to defeat Singing River 3-2 on Sunday for the title.

For the day Melissa Duncan played outstandingly in goal, turning away several tough shots; Patricia Garcia was superb on defense and Shannon O'Brien had three goals on beautiful setups from Andrea Ambrose among others.

But the player of the day, selected by her teammates, was Kathy Kergosien who consistently broke up the opponent's attacks and started counterattacks for the Giants. It was a total team effort and demonstrated the potential for championship girls' soccer in the Bay Area. Since eleven of the sixteen players were realigned Under 14 girls, next year this team should take it all!

At Pascagoula Gulf Coast Waste easily got by the Biloxi No. 2 team in the opening round on Saturday 4-0. However, on Sunday Gulf Coast Waste, as did the Purple Knights in the Under 9 Playdowns the previous weekend, had the misfortune to play the eventual tournament winner, Ocean Springs, in the semifinals.

It was an evenly played game with Gulf Coast Waste having the advantage in passing and Ocean Springs having the advantage in power. In the end it was the power that got two goals despite the superb play of Glen Rose who initially stopped each scoring shot. The first goal was scored off the rebound and the second scored when the reverse English on the ball caused it to bounce off the goaltender into the net.

In the consolation game an emotionally exhausted Gulf Coast Waste eleven edged out Biloxi No. 1 2-1 in overtime to take third place. Coach Fred Bowles said that his team "played excellent soccer... it was a very skilled weekend of soccer." Congratulations to another fine soccer representative from the Bay Area!

In the final District IV Playdowns at Orange Grove Little Italy in the Under 10 Division easily downed Biloxi No. 2 in the opening round on Saturday.

In the second game it was a different story as eventual tournament winner SMSC No. 1 took Little Italy 4-0. Chris Karl played well in goal, and Tommy O'Brien and Wade Weidman provided the offense in the opener with two goals apiece.

Meanwhile Lolacano's faced the SMSC No. 2 team which went on to reach the finals and dropped a 4-0 decision. Lolacano's was outclassed, but still played a gutsy, determined game of soccer. This team will do better next year as most of its players return while the other teams will have most of their players move up to the Under 12 Division.

In summary this season saw the Purple Knights in the Under 8 Division, Gulf Coast Waste in the Under 14 Division, Sea Coast Echo in the Under 12 Girls' Division and SportsWorld in the Under 16 Girls' Division all place third in their respective tournaments, while Mary Carter Paints won it all in the Under 12 Division and Homes of the South placed second in the Under 16 Division.

Let's all support Mary Carter Paints and Homes of the South in Vicksburg this weekend! Any contributions to defray these young people's expenses should be given to Tom Demboski.

The BASC Board of Directors will meet next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at St. Clare School to wrap up this season and start planning for next season.

BASC will be sponsoring a STAR Soccer Camp this summer at the end of July. If you are interested in having your child attend contact Joann Duncan. Let's get all our children out for this so that our season next year will be even better!

Navy office sponsoring Special Olympics

A special Olympics Field Day will be held at NSTL Saturday for 200 handicapped participants from special education programs and institutions in Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River, and Stone Counties.

The event, sponsored by the Naval Oceanographic Office will be conducted under the auspices of District III, Mississippi Special Olympics.

Opening ceremonies begin at 9 a.m.

Designed to enhance the physical and emotional well-being of the special athletes, the NAVOCEANO Spring '83 Special Olympics Field Day will feature approximately nine sporting events. Olympic-style music will be provided by the U.S. Navy Band.

To ensure a first class event, the 1,000 civilian and 200 military employees of NAVOCEANO have raised more than $8,300 for food, transportation, medals, trophies, and more than 200 have volunteered to work the event.

A crowd of over 900 people are expected to attend.

Founded more than 150 years ago, the Naval Oceanographic Office today is a globe-spanning organization operating 12 oceanographic ships and three specially-equipped aircraft to collect, analyze, publish, and distribute oceanographic information needed to support Naval operations.

Operating on an annual budget of $170 million, NAVOCEANO is one of the largest employers on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

HOBBY SERIES
Three new how-to hobby series—"Magic of Animal Painting," "SPOKESman" and "Under Sail"—begin Sunday, May 8, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

"Magic of Animal Painting," a series focusing on a lighthearted, whimsical style of painting animals, can be seen at 5 p.m. Artist-host for the series, Sue Scheewe, has enjoyed successful careers as both a professional artist and teacher. "I just want my TV viewers to have fun," she says. "They won't become instant Rembrandts, but they will get better with practice and have more and more fun with painting in the process."

A 13-part bicycle "workshops" for TV titled "SPOKESman" will air at 5:30 p.m. Each program in the series includes both informational and hands-on instruction. The on-air hosts, James Dunn and Tracy Stefanik, will discuss the different speeds, uses, purchasing and adjustment of the bicycle and the removal, cleaning, repairing and replacing of each section on the bike.

"The series was designed for viewers who already have a bicycle," said producer Ev O'Hare. "What we wanted to do was point out the advantages of a lighter bike and show step-by-step how to take care of it and do their own repairs."

A how-to series on the art of sailing, "Under Sail," can be seen at 10 p.m. The eight-part series takes viewers from the basics of the sport to the more advanced aspects. The programs focus on a wide range of vessels and on various experts along the way.

TENSE NECK MUSCLES

Tense neck muscles brought this patient to our clinic with a curious array of painful symptoms. The neck muscles were stiff and painful upon movement causing the top of his head to Dr. Wm. L. Powell, and an elevated blood pressure. Conditions of this nature are caused for the most part by displaced spinal bones which irritate delicate nerve fibers. The response is excellent under Chiropractic care. A spinal analysis and x-rays gave evidence of spinal bone slippage and scientific application of Chiropractic adjustments brought quick relief, and in time, correction to this person. He now is always sending his friends who get in the same fix to us so that we may fix them up.

Two prominent speakers will be heard at USM

Elizabeth Hanford Dole, U.S. secretary of transportation, will be the featured speaker for graduation ceremonies May 13, at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Dole, the nation's eighth Secretary of Transportation, was nominated for the position by President Reagan and won unanimous Senate approval. She was sworn in Feb. 7.

Prior to accepting the Cabinet post, Mrs. Dole served as assistant to the president for public liaison. In that capacity she directed the president's major outreach program at the White House. She was responsible for conveying the views of key groups such as business, labor and agriculture to the president for developing consensus policies and programs.

Dole is a former Federal Trade Commissioner, a former deputy special assistant to the President and a former staff assistant to the assistant secretary of HEW.

She graduated with distinction in political science from Duke University, received her law degree from Harvard Law School and earned a master's degree in education and government from Harvard University.

Following her service at HEW, in which she specialized in education problems of the disabled, Dole served as executive director of the president's committee on consumer interests from 1980 to 1981.

She was named the deputy director of the Office of Consumer Affairs in 1971 and in 1973 became a member of the Federal Trade Commission.

In 1972, she received the Arthur Fleming Award for Outstanding Government Service and in 1974 Time Magazine chose her as one of America's 200 "Faces of the Future."

Dole currently serves on the board of trustees of Duke University, and the board of advisors for the Duke Business School. She is a member of the Overseers Committee of Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government, a member of the Washington Opera Board, the Board of Directors of the national Council of the Aging, The Board of Directors of the Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts, and the national Advisory Council of the National Federation of Republican Women.

During the 1980 presidential campaign, Dole served as Chairman of Voters for Reagan-Bush and as a member of the Reagan-Bush Truth Squad. She directed the Human Services Group for the Office of the Executive Branch Management, Office of the President-elect.

She is a native of Salisbury, N.C. and is married to Bob Dole, U.S. Senator from Kansas.

Dole will address a general commencement convocation at 10:30 a.m. in the Bernard Reed Green Coliseum at which baccalaureate, master's and specialist's degrees will be conferred by groups. Doctoral degrees will be given individually.

Also addressing USM students will be Governor William Winter, who will give the Awards Day address.

At Awards Day students are honored for their scholastic, leadership and fraternal accomplishments and such honors as induction into the Hall of Fame, the best citizens award and the presentation of the Phi Kappa Phi Bowl to the University's top scholar are announced.

The day begins with the awards ceremony in the Bennett Auditorium at 10 a.m. At 9:30 a.m. on the USM bands will be presenting a lawn concert for parents and visitors.

At 7 p.m. in the College of Business Administration Room 115 Professor Robert Whittemore from Tulane University will speak on "Whitehead and the Problem of Evil." The lecture is part of the Fairchild Lecture series.

At 8 p.m. a concert by USM's Wind Ensemble and a performance of George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" are scheduled. The ensemble concert will be in Performing Arts Center Auditorium.

The play will be in the southern Arena Theatre the week of April 26-30.

Seating in the SAT is in-the-round and tickets can be reserved by calling 266-4999. The lecture and the concert are free of charge but there is an admission-price for the play.

Rayner selected SSC Star Student

Tim Rayner, senior at St. Stanislaus, has been selected as the school's Star Student by the Mississippi Economic Council's Student Teacher Achievement Recognition Program.

The selection was based on the student's high scholastic average for the first semester and his score on the American College Test.

Brother Bennet Bishop was designated the Star Teacher because in Rayner's opinion he made the greatest contribution to his scholastic achievement, according to Brother Paul Milligan, SSC principal.

Rayner, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Rayner of Pass Christian, is presently in his fifth year at St. Stanislaus. He is an alpha honor roll student and a member of the National Honor Society and the French Honor Society.

BROTHER BENNET

At the State Science and Math Tournament he scored in the top 10 percent in math during his junior and senior years, and he scored in the top 2 percent in biology in his junior year.

As a member of the school band, he received superior ratings at the Gulf Coast Solo and Ensemble Contest.

He plans to attend the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.

Brother Bennet teaches English and religion. He received his bachelor's degree from Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala., and earned a master's degree from Loyola University in New Orleans.

In addition to his academic work, Brother Bennet is the founder and president of the American Drug Free Powerlifting Association.

He is the son of Mrs. W.R. Bishop and the late W.R. Bishop of Baton Rouge, La.

Merrifield named Presidential Scholar

The U.S. Department of Education and the Commission on Presidential Scholars reports Elizabeth Suzanne Merrifield of Bay St. Louis is a 1983 finalist in the Presidential Scholars Program.

This program annually identifies the most distinguished and accomplished graduating high school seniors in the nation.

Merrifield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Merrifield of 113 Beverly Drive, is one of 1,000 students to become a finalist in this program from among nearly 2.8 million graduating seniors nationwide.

She has been awarded a certificate the President's Commission on Presidential Scholars.

Merrifield is a graduating senior at Our Lady's Academy.

From the 1,000 finalists, the selection of 141 Presidential Scholars will be made in early May by the members of the President's Commission on Presidential Scholars.

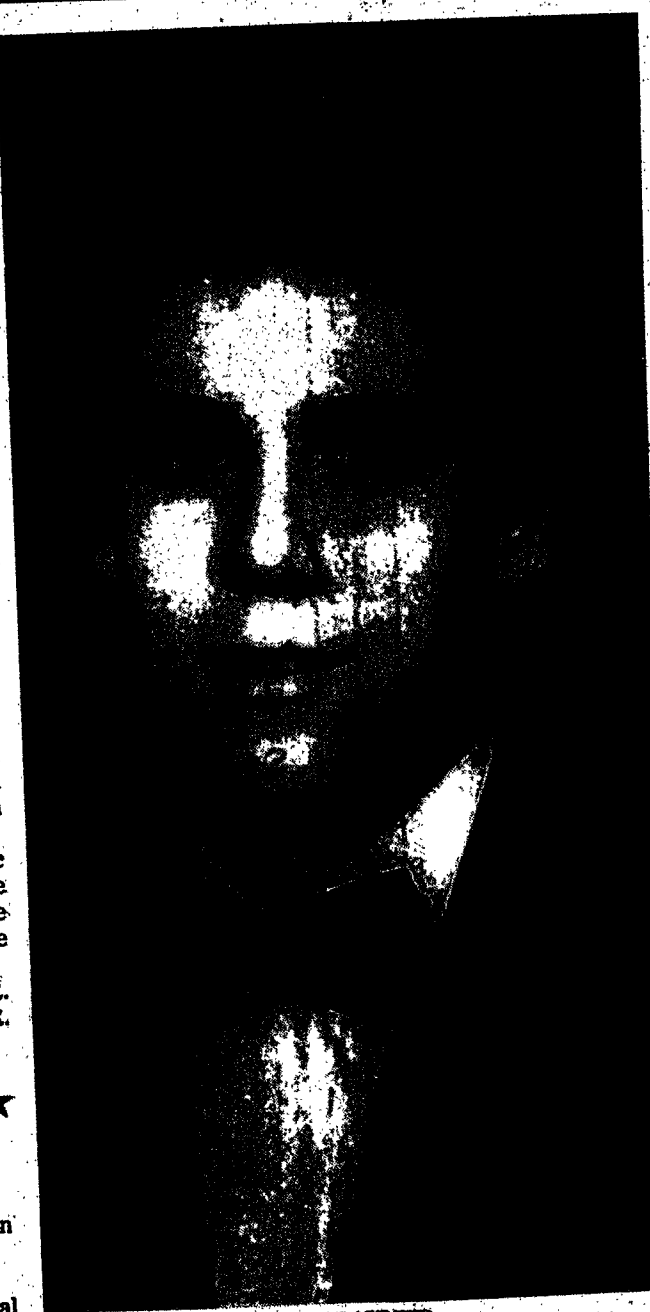

Presidential Scholars will be invited by the commission to Washington, D.C., where they will be honored by their elected representatives, educators, and others in public life.

Selection is based on numerous factors in addition to academic excellence.

Achievement in the visual and performing arts and creative writing, demonstrated leadership ability, contribution of energy and creativity to school and community, and achievement in the sciences and other fields of interest are considered.

The independent judgment of the members of the Commission on Presidential Scholars, with the concurrence of the President of the United States, determines final selection as a 1983 Presidential Scholar.

OLA STAR student, teacher selected

A Mississippi Economic Council spokesman reports Elizabeth S. Merrifield of Bay St. Louis has been selected as the STAR student at Our Lady Academy in that city.

"STAR students are selected on the basis of academic excellence. American College Test scores and scholastic averages are considered in designation of the school's STAR Student," the spokesman states.

The Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school seniors.

Top scholars are designated as STAR Students in more than 325 participating schools in Mississippi. From these students, area winners are selected and the council awards scholarships to the state's top three students and their teacher.

Ole Miss Pace program deadline is June 15

Outstanding high school students may earn six hours of college credit through enrollment in The University of Mississippi's Project PACE—a summer program for gifted high school students—which will run July 4–Aug. 5 on the Ole Miss campus.

Project PACE (Promoting Academic and Creative Excellence) is an academic enrichment program designed specifically for gifted students who are entering their senior year in high school.

Students must have successfully completed 15 high school credits, with three years of English, and must have at least a 23 on the ACT to be eligible for early admission to the University.

Once admitted to the University, the student may apply for PACE, which is based on six criteria: IQ test scores, achievement test scores, high school transcript, recommendations from school officials, student's participation in school and community activities, and a writing sample. Students will be ranked on these criteria and no more than 50 applicants will be selected for the program.

Applications for the program must be received by the Honors Program director no later than June 15.

PACE participants will be enrolled in a three-hour Honors course, which will discuss great books and great ideas and will concentrate on building critical thinking, and self-initiated discovery. Students also will be enrolled in any three-hour course—for which they met prerequisites—that is taught in the University's regular summer session, for a total of six hours credit.

In addition to classes, PACE students will participate in large and small discussion groups, touching on such varied topics as career exploration, politics and philosophy.

Faculty for the summer program will include both teachers certified in gifted education and University personnel. Individual faculty members for the PACE program were selected for expertise in their fields and for the ability to challenge gifted youth.

Students who successfully complete the PACE program also will be seriously considered for admission to the University Honors Program when they enroll as freshmen to The University of Mississippi.

Tuition scholarships for the summer program will be awarded to qualified applicants. Cost for the program to PACE students will be for meals, room rent, books and fees.

More information is available by writing Project PACE, University Honors Program, Honors Center, The University of Mississippi, University, MS. 38677, or telephone 601/232-7294.

The American Legion estimates that nearly nine out of every 10 war veterans will lose their entitlement to a $300 burial allowance from the Veterans Administration October 1 under budget cuts passed by Congress and signed into law by President Reagan.

Up to now, all honorably discharged war veterans, plus peacetime vets entitled to service-connected disability compensation, have been eligible. After October 1, only veterans entitled to service-connected compensation (based on total disability and limited income) will be.

Yearbook publisher cites Orgeron, Townsend

The United States Achievement Academy reports Craig Paul Orgeron has been named a 1983 United States National Award winner in science.

The academy also said Sean Michael Lee Townsend has been named a 1983 winner in history and government.

The awards are prestigious honors very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students, the organization states.

Townsend, who attends Pass Christian Middle School, was nominated by Mrs. Gerri Dendis, history teacher at the school.

United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Townsend is the son of Mrs. Lorraine M. Townsend.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Meyer of Delisle and Joseph L. Townsend of Rockledge, Fla.

Orgeron, who attends Bay Senior High, was nominated by Mrs. Roxana Liebig, chemistry teacher at the school.

Orgeron also will appear in the academy yearbook.

He is the son of Mary Bernard and Martin O. Blanchard, III.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Bernard Sr. of Waveland and Mr. and Mrs. Martin O. Blanchard Jr., also of Waveland.

School improvement a community responsibility

"There's no doubt that America's Schools can be improved, but it's time to recognize that improvement must come through a society-wide approach," said Scott Thomson, executive director, National Association of Secondary School Principals (NAASP), regarding the report of the National Commission on Excellence in Education.

"Schools can't do it alone," Thomson said. The commission called for tougher course work, longer hours in school, and greater expectations for students in its report which was released late in April.

Secretary of Education Terrel H. Bell appointed the 16-person commission two years ago to study the American education system. The report, which was released at a White House briefing, called for attention to the "Five New Basics"—four years of English, three years of mathematics, three years of science, three years of social studies, one-half year of computer science.

"Schools can improve, and that is a fact that principals, other administrators, and teachers must realize," contended Thomson. "But we can't wave a magic wand to create improvement. Society must understand that education is an investment in America, and that everyone has a role to play."

Thomson cited the numerous comparisons between American schools and those in Japan in the report.

"If people believe that the Japanese get greater productivity from their educational system than we do, the simple fact is that they contribute greater support to their schools," Thomson said.

In the 1978-79 Japanese fiscal year about 7.1 percent of the national income was spent on elementary and secondary education, "according to figures from the Ministry of Education, Science and Culture. In 1981-82, about four percent of the United States' gross national product was spent on schools when all governmental expenditures were tabulated.

"We realize that schools should demand more of students, but at the same time parents must support those increased demands," he said. "If schools impose strict requirements for promotion to the next highest grade and parents believe that that is important, they should not complain if their youngster is not promoted as long as the decision is made in an objective manner."

"Business has every right to demand that graduates from our schools are proficient in common skills, but they must also look for ways they can support schools. That assistance can come by encouraging executives to serve on school boards, loaning personnel to teach part-time in the schools, providing summer employment for teachers, instituting on-the-job training programs for students, and supporting measures to provide adequate funding for schools.

"If a community demands academic excellence, and it has every right to do just that, it should support academic excellence. Many newspapers run the photos of every player on the all-metropolitan football team. How many papers run the photos of every honor student?"

"It's not enough for people to say, 'We want better education!' It's time to ask, 'How can we help?'"

"Many of our talented students have never stopped trying to improve their minds; instead they have sought new opportunities to learn," said Thomson. "Over the past decade the number of high school students taking Advanced Placement tests, which are given to determine if these youngsters will receive college credit for the AP courses they completed in high school, has jumped by two and a half times.

Gulf Pines Council honors Ladner, Williams

Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council honored over 100 girls at their Awards Banquet held Saturday evening at the Broadwater Hotel in Biloxi.

Twenty-two adults volunteers were recognized for their outstanding contributions to Girl Scouting.

Guest speaker was Jonna Lynne Cullen, former assistant director for legislative affairs, executive office of the president, Office of Management and Budget.

Her address encouraged girls to believe in their abilities and to seek happiness, an important factor to success.

The Silver Award, one of the highest awards earned by a Girl Scout, was awarded to Karen Ann Ladner and Robin Williams, both of Bay St. Louis Troop 27, Alice Holmes is their adult advisor.

The Silver Leadership Award was presented to Jennifer Burrows, Sabrina Kersanac, Deidre Ferrell and Robin Williams. These girls are also of Troop 27.

The highest honor which can be bestowed upon an adult in Girl Scouting, the Thanks Badge was presented to three outstanding south Mississippians: Mrs. L.O. Crosby Jr. of Piquette, Wiley Fairchild of Hattiesburg, and Jean Wood of Gulfport.

Nine girls received the Gold Award, the highest award achieved in Girl Scouting. Recipients were: from Hattiesburg Troop 305, Denise Waltman, Katharine Smith, Elizabeth Giles and Susan Owen; from Hattiesburg Troop 442, Stacie Strimel, Sharon Crook, Sarah Blackmon and Cecile Arnold; and from Biloxi Troop 341, Maria Holcomb.

Individuals, companies and institutions who have continued to exhibit a support of the Girl Scouting program were also honored. Recipients of the Civic and community Awards were Harrison County District, Beauvoir United Methodist Church, 20th Special Forces Group of the National Guard, Robert Lane of Spartan Good Systems, Golden Gate Skateland, William Carey College on the Coast, and Mississippi Gulf Coast Building and Trade Commission.

Five adults received the Magnolia Award, which is given to volunteers for selfless devotion and efforts far beyond the total job requirements. Recipients were Diane Worland of Gulfport; Ouida Harris, Lucedale; Laurel Crook, Hattiesburg; Cheryl Greer, Pascagoula; and Theresa Robins of Biloxi.

Mrs. Robert Portwood Sr., president of the council, welcomed the more than 350 guests.

Members of the board of directors participated in the presentations along with Kitty Reid, executive director.

Alben N. Hopkins was master of ceremonies. The invocation was offered by Rev. Gene Waldrop.

Music for the evening was provided by Nicky Gordon, organ compliments of Mississippi Music, Inc.

Closing the occasion, Denise Waltman, a Gold Award recipient, accompanied by Debbie Davis, sang a selection which paid tribute to volunteers.

BILL COLE
State Treasurer

TO: All Mississippi Residents
RE: Unclaimed Funds

In 1982 I recommended the enactment of an Unclaimed Property Law. On July 1, 1982, Mississippi became the 49th state to enact the law.

The purpose of the law is to locate any funds in the State of Mississippi that were unclaimed for a period of seven years or had been abandoned. Every bank, savings and loan, insurance company, travelers check company, utility, and business association having such funds were required to report them to the State Treasurer.

The first year's reports are in and over $3 million has been located.

Many people have long forgotten these funds or the actual owners are deceased and their heirs were unaware of the funds' existence. The purpose of the law was to locate the funds and then to attempt to locate the owners or heirs and return them.

This publication provides a listing of all names reported to our office. Should your name or the name of a relative appear, simply fill out the form included and mail to the address listed. After August 1st these funds will be transferred to the State Treasurer's Office. However, an owner or heir never loses the right to claim the funds because the state never assumes ownership. You may file your claim directly with the State Treasurer's Office to receive your funds at any time.

It is our desire to return these funds to the rightful owners as quickly as possible. We hope that our efforts are successful in being helpful to the people of Mississippi in locating money that is rightfully theirs.

BILL COLE
